SANTA CLARA, Calif., Nov. 25, 2013 /PRNewswire/ -- Palo Alto Networks, Inc. (NYSE: PANW) today announced financial results for its fiscal first quarter of 2014 ended October 31, 2013.

(Logo: http://photos.prnewswire.com/prnh/20130508/SF04701LOGO)

Total revenue for the fiscal first quarter grew 49 percent year-over-year to a record $128.2 million, compared with $85.9 million in the fiscal first quarter of 2013. GAAP net loss for the fiscal first quarter was $7.9 million, or $0.11 per diluted share, compared with a net loss of $3.5 million, or $0.05 per diluted share, in the fiscal first quarter of 2013.

Palo Alto Networks recorded fiscal first quarter non-GAAP net income of $6.2 million, or $0.08 per diluted share, compared with non-GAAP net income of $3.3 million, or $0.05 per diluted share, in the fiscal first quarter of 2013. A reconciliation between GAAP and non-GAAP information is contained in the tables below. Our non-GAAP financial results now exclude the impact of ongoing legal expenses associated with our IP litigation.

"Demand was strong across a wide range of theaters and verticals, resulting in 14 percent sequential revenue growth in our fiscal first quarter. We added over 1,000 new customers, steadily increased penetration of our existing customer base and made clear market share gains," said Mark McLaughlin, president and chief executive officer of Palo Alto Networks. "Our results continue to prove that our next-generation enterprise security platform is becoming the mainstream market choice for enterprise network security around the world. The success of our WildFire subscription for the APT market is continued evidence of how we can leverage the unique attributes of our platform to drive leadership in the fast growing cybersecurity market segment."

Commenting on the company's financial results in the fiscal first quarter, Steffan Tomlinson, chief financial officer of Palo Alto Networks, added, "Strong product revenue growth was complemented by 73 percent year-over-year growth of our recurring subscriptions and services revenue. The rapid growth of our SaaS recurring revenue stream is a testament to the power of our hybrid business model and was a major driver of record deferred revenue, which increased by 74 percent year-over-year. For the first quarter, we expanded gross margins, generated solid cash flow from operations and ended the quarter with approximately $470 million in cash, cash equivalents and investments."

Forward-Looking Statements

This press release contains forward-looking statements that involve risks and uncertainties, including statements regarding continued momentum in the company's business. There are a significant number of factors that could cause actual results to differ materially from statements made in this press release, including: Palo Alto Networks' limited operating history, particularly as a relatively new public company; risks associated with Palo Alto Networks' rapid growth, particularly outside of the U.S.; rapidly evolving technological developments in the market for network security products; and general market, political, economic and business conditions.

Additional risks and uncertainties that could affect Palo Alto Networks' financial results are included under the captions "Risk Factors" and "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations," in the company's annual report on Form 10-K filed with the SEC on September 25, 2013 which is available on the company's website at investors.paloaltonetworks.com and on the SEC's website at www.sec.gov. Additional information will also be set forth in other filings that the company makes with the SEC from time to time. All forward-looking statements in this press release are based on information available to the company as of the date hereof, and Palo Alto Networks does not assume any obligation to update the forward-looking statements provided to reflect events that occur or circumstances that exist after the date on which they were made.

Non-GAAP Financial Measures

Palo Alto Networks has provided in this release financial information that has not been prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles in the United States (GAAP). The company uses these non-GAAP financial measures internally in analyzing its financial results and believes that the use of these non-GAAP financial measures is useful to investors as an additional tool to evaluate ongoing operating results and trends and in comparing the company's financial results with other companies in its industry, many of which present similar non-GAAP financial measures.

Non-GAAP financial measures are not meant to be considered in isolation or as a substitute for comparable GAAP financial measures, and should be read only in conjunction with the company's consolidated financial statements prepared in accordance with GAAP. A reconciliation of the company's non-GAAP financial measures to their most directly comparable GAAP measures has been provided in the financial statement tables included in this press release, and investors are encouraged to review the reconciliation.

Non-GAAP net income and diluted net income per share. Palo Alto Networks defines non-GAAP net income as net income (loss) plus share-based compensation expense less the related tax effects, tax adjustments related to the valuation allowance on deferred tax assets, and expenses related to IP litigation. Palo Alto Networks considers these non-GAAP financial measures to be useful metrics for management and investors because they exclude the effect of share-based compensation expense so that management and investors can compare the company's "core business operating results," meaning its operating performance excluding not only share-based compensation but also, from time to time, discrete charges that are infrequent in nature, over multiple periods. The company also excludes from non-GAAP net income and non-GAAP diluted net income per share the tax effects, including income tax and payroll tax, associated with share-based compensation in order to provide a complete picture of the company's recurring core business operating results. Without excluding these tax effects, investors would only see the gross effect that excluding these expenses had on the company's operating results. There are a number of limitations related to the use of non-GAAP net income and non-GAAP diluted net income per share versus net income (loss) and diluted net income (loss) per share calculated in accordance with GAAP. First, non-GAAP net income and non-GAAP diluted net income per share exclude share-based compensation expense and related tax effects. Share-based compensation has been and will continue to be for the foreseeable future a significant recurring expense in the company's business. Second, share-based compensation is an important part of Palo Alto Networks employees' compensation and impacts their performance. Third, the components of the costs that Palo Alto Networks excludes in its calculation of non-GAAP net income and non-GAAP diluted net income per share may differ from the components that its peer companies exclude when they report their non-GAAP results of operations. Palo Alto Networks compensates for these limitations by providing specific information regarding the GAAP amounts excluded from non-GAAP net income and non-GAAP diluted net income per share and evaluating non-GAAP net income and non-GAAP diluted net income per share together with net income (loss) and diluted net income (loss) per share calculated in accordance with GAAP. Finally, Palo Alto Networks excludes expenses related to IP litigation in its calculation of non-GAAP net income and non-GAAP diluted net income per share. Palo Alto Networks expects to continue to incur IP litigation expenses in future periods. In the future, the company may also exclude non-recurring expenses and other expenses that do not reflect the company's core business operating results.
